HOW TO REACH US

Please Address Correspondence To: MAD, Dept. 398, 1700 Broadway, New York, New York 10019. MAD welcomes reader submissions. Manuscripts will not be returned or acknowledged, however, unless they are accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope! MAD doesn't read faxed submissions!

CANADIANS CLUBBED

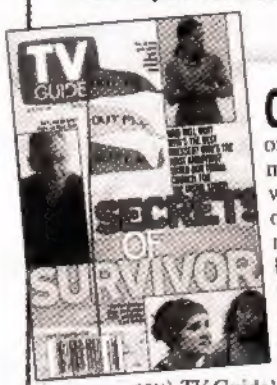
I just bought issue #395 and while reading it, I came across the article "Sports Suction." I saw one item which touched a very sensitive nerve...the Grey Cup. If you think that Canadian sports don't matter, you are wrong. We are very proud of our teams. Overall, I am tired of Americans being disrespectful to us. What's wrong with Canada? Are we too nice? Are we too respectable? Whatever the reason, I would like the insults to end. We are proud of our nation, just like you are of yours, so why can't we just accept each other and try to get along better like neighbors should.

Mike Higginson, Ontario, Canada

Neighbor to the Great White North — Why the constant insults to Canada? Why the disrespectful attitude? Two words: Celine Dion! Get her to stop with the My Heart Will Go On crap, get her to shut up about how she can't get pregnant, and get her to shut up about how now she is pregnant! And while you're at it, get her to stop wearing those stupid outfits to the Oscars. And then maybe we'll lighten up about Canada. Until then, expect the Grey Cup jokes to keep flyin', eh! —Ed.

TEARS FOR CHEERS

JEERS to TV Guide (July 8-14 issue) for their recent Cheers to MAD for our spoof of their lame multi-cover issues in MAD #395. What do we have to do around here to piss somebody off?



CHEERS to that usual gang of idiots over at MAD magazine. It's been a while since we checked out the favorite reading material of our youth, but how could we resist when we heard about MAD's three pages of illustrations celebrating (ahem, as MAD would say) TV Guide's multiple-cover collector's issues. MAD's parody included a four-cover TV Guide series honoring "Great Newscasting Debacles"— Dan Rather storming off the set, Dateline bomb-rigging a truck, 60 Minutes pulling its cigarette exposé and Peter Jennings answering a phone-in call from a Howard Stern fan. What, us mad? Not at all. In fact, we only wish we'd thought of the "Debacle" idea first. We would, however, pass on the four covers charting the evolution of William Shatner's hairline over the years. Wouldn't we?

CANNON BAWL

While you profess that your magazine is "geared towards 30-year-old men who live with cats and communicate regularly with their mothers" (letters page #395), I surmise your publication is actually a big seller with extremely unaware, illiterate pre- and adolescent kids with acne problems who tend to play with their dingalings too much. Any comments? Please, no witty quips like "You're a moron" or "a dingaling." An intelligent response for once would be appreciated by all those who can't fathom the success of your magazine or the idea that you consider yourselves truly gifted or talented artists and writers. It isn't hard to sell garbage to a garbage swilling dumbed-down country. But still I would like to hear your take on the success of your publication.

B. Cannon, Templeton, MA

Yo B — It's rare that we get a letter as idiotic as yours. Therefore, in an unprecedented move, we are beseeching the Make A Dumb Wish Foundation™ to make our wish about you come true! Here's their response: "Dear Ed. Of the many requests we receive at the Make A Dumb Wish Foundation™, yours was the most understandable and easily granted. Here goes: B. Cannon is an a-hole, a moron and a guy who plays with his dingaling too much! Thanks for thinking of the Make A Dumb Wish Foundation™." B. — we hope we answered all your questions! —Ed.

POKÉMON, IS HE ANGRY

In "The Pokémon Collectors Hall of Fame" (MAD #394) you say that Derek Chan traded his sister for a one-of-a-kind Articuno card. There is no one-of-a-kind Articuno card! I know this because I am the #1 fan of Pokémon. To the right of him you say that kid let his dog perish in a fire to save his rare Poliwag card. The Poliwag card is a circle rarity (easy to get, complete opposite of rare) card. I think I should be in the Hall of Fame, because in a couple of weeks I will be getting my 250th card!

Rob Saylor, Poland, OH

Saylor boy— Several years ago we printed an article called "You're a Winner and a Loser." Somehow we feel the writer must have had you in mind because when you write to a major magazine bragging that you are the "#1 fan of Pokémon," you, 'ol Pikachu Boy, are indeed a winner and a loser! Best to Team Rocket! —Ed.

THE ED.'S NIFTY FIFTY™

As a film/video major at the University of Michigan, I had the opportunity to fulfill two dreams in one day. To get a free subscription to MAD and sit next to this girl I liked. Spike Lee was there too, doing something. Looking at the quality of the pictures, it appears that I should be winning a free subscription to some camera magazine.

Josh Herman, Farmington Hills, MI

Josh Herman of Farmington Hills, MI does the right thing and nabs a three-year subscription and a special prize for this Nifty Fifty™ snapshot of legendary New York Knicks fan Spike Lee! (Sorry, our prize of 40 acres and a mule is no longer available.) Congratulations, Josh!

GALL IN THE FAMILY

In Issue #395, you printed a letter from our brother. Are you going to let the guy lord that over us the rest of our lives?

Andrew Cutrofello, Susan Cutrofello and Mary Cushing, Evanston, IL

Cutrofello Sibs — We vividly remember your brother's pathetic letter in which he claimed to be on "the tip" because he played with a Rubik's Cube. Well, we printed your letter so now he can't lord that over you for the rest of your lives. Now it's your turn to step up to the plate and get your brother the professional counseling he so obviously needs. You might also make the counseling available to the many students whose academic lives he's left in ruins! —Ed.
P.S. Please, please, we don't want whining letters from any other Cutrofello family members next month!

This is an amazing series of weather phenomenons! Hurricane Grace is blowing out to sea, while Tropical Storm Henry is blowing in! Sandwiched in the middle, getting pounded from both sides, is local depression Irma! It's truly a meteorological ménage à trois!
I'm Captain Bully Time of the Andrea Bail! My last fishing trip was a disaster, so I'm back at sea trying to do better! I need to catch more fish to make some real money because expenses are killing me! There's boat rental, bait, fuel, repairs, salaries, food and the biggest expense of all, buying fish so I have something to unload when I dock, and everybody's watching!
I'm Bobbin' Shaftford, a novice fisherman! It wasn't until my third trip out that I discovered when you catch tuna, they're NOT in those little cans! Fishing for anything is tough! Sometimes I wonder why I put up with these endless hours of backbreaking work! Then we'll accidentally catch a vicious shark, and I remember: I need money to help pay off my divorce lawyer!
I'm Surf, and I'm separated from my wife, too! I wonder why so many crew members have woman problems! They always seem to have a headache when we want to drop our hook in their pond! I wonder if all these months at sea without a shower has anything to do with it! I work hard so my son can get a better education than me! For that to happen, he just has to make it to the fourth grade!

I'm Buggy Moron, and I do real bad with the women! I do real bad with men, too, but don't let THAT get around! My luck is changing a bit, though! I just met a woman who likes me for myself! How do I know? Because she gave me a 10% discount on her regular overnight rate!
I'm Alfred Sea-Air, one of the crew! When we're not catching fish, the only thing to do aboard this tub is to watch movies on our VCR! For this trip the skipper rented The Peacemaker! Not the greatest choice, but it's got to be better than the last three he rented: Batman And Robin, One Fine Day and Three Kings! Hoo boy! Talk about your bombs!
I'm Sulky, a restless malcontent! Why am I so ornery? Because I'm the only sailor who gets sea sick! But I won't give any of my mates the satisfaction of seeing me throw up — so I secretly do it down in the galley! Here's a tip: don't eat the chowder!

WHEN THE SHIP HITS THE FAN DEPT.

That's the crew of the Andrea Bail! Fearless men heading out to sea with hope, determination and purpose! What happens when these men go up against the incredible forces of nature? Actually, not too much! Break open a new bottle of No-Doz, here's ...

THE PERFECT SNORE

ARTIST: MORT DRUCKER WRITER: DICK DEBARTOLO

Fishing is worse than ever, Captain! I'm afraid we've caught everything that can be caught in these waters!
Surf's right, Captain! Look! This last swordfish we caught was already mounted on a plaque! There's nothing more to catch here!
80 NW
Break it up! What the hell are you guys arguing over now?
We're arguing over who started the argument! And I say, I did!
No, I did!
Cut it out! We're all part of the same team on this boat! Everyone must treat everyone else with care and respect! Now you F*@$!ing morons, shape up, or else!
What happened?
If you hate him, why are you gonna save him?
Surf fell overboard and I'm jumping in to save him!
Because he fell in accidentally! I wanted to throw him overboard, and no one is going to take that joy away from me!
The Grand Banks are fished out! I'm going out further, to the Really Grand Banks! We'll catch a ton of fish and come back with a load like you've never seen!
The Really Grand Banks!? Now I'VE got a load like you have never seen — right here in my skivvies!
I don't want to turn around! This is where we separate the men from the boys!
It may also be where you separate the men from their lives!
Are you all scared little babies, or are you rugged Gloucester fishermen?
Do you have a third choice, something in the middle, like "are we sort of scared Gloucester fishermen?"
PROPERTY OF COUNTY GENERAL E.R.

DRUCKER 7

Look at that, boys! The hook barely hit the water and we caught a whopper! Our luck has changed! It's clear sailing from now on!
Captain, the refrigeration unit just burned out! Don't catch any more fish! I don't know how to keep the one you caught from spoiling!
All right, we turn around, speed home and if we can sell just this one fish for $3,000 a pound, we'll still come out okay!
The seas are building mighty fast, Captain! My God, look! That wave is the height of a 10-story apartment building!
How do you know that?
Because there's a 10-story apartment building that's been washed out right in the middle of it!
Man, talk about your great ocean views! I bet the landlord raises their rent now!
Andrea Bail...This is Green-horn! What is your location?
I'm between two really, really big waves!
You're heading into the worst special effects storm ever filmed! Check the weather map in your fax machine!
A giant wave just washed my fax out to sea! If the next giant wave brings it back, I'll check it out!
As audiences expected, this terrible storm will center itself directly over the fishing vessel Andrea Bail, out there in the dangerous waters of the Really Grand Banks!
I went out to the Really Grand Banks once! Worst body of water in the world! We faced fierce waves! Some were on fire, some had big potholes in 'em! And the foam wasn't foam! It was quicksand! But I came back alive!
Yeah, but 50 of you went out there and just you came back, you sauced up old fool!
The Coast Guard is attempting to rescue three sailors from a boat that is taking a pounding at the Grand Banks!
The rescue basket is full of fish again! I never knew the Grand Banks had so many fish! We lowered the basket just twice and we must have caught 50 of 'em!
Reel in all the fish you can! I know a captain who'll pay big bucks for them!
Damn, Captain, now the windshield wipers just quit!
Ahh, that's okay!
You're a brave man, Captain!
Not really! It's just that with all the windows already knocked out, it doesn't matter if the wipers don't work!

Captain! Captain! Sulky got washed overboard!

I'll back down on the throttles so we can pick him up!

It's okay! I used one of our huge grappling hooks —

— and you got him out of the water?

Yep. both halves of him!

Look, Captain! A rescue helicopter's coming towards us!

And you thought we were done for, didn't you!?

Er. I don't see it anymore! Where'd it go?

It just crashed into the ocean — but at least it sheared off all our loose rigging when it flew overhead, so it wasn't a total loss!

Today's forecast calls for sunshine — for about 15 seconds! Then the storm of the century strikes again —with twice the power!

Seems to be clearing up, Captain!

Aye! Those waves are already down to just 80 feet!

Except for the ones that are about 120 feet!

The ship seems to have developed quite a list, Captain!

Actually, upside down is the very most a ship can list!

Interesting though, that even upside down and underwater, all the lights still work!

Not only that! Just our luck, the refrigeration unit started working again! We're underwater with a ton of ice! This is Poseidon Adventure meets Titanic!

At last, a bit of luck! We washed up on an island!

Do you have any idea what island?

Oh my God, we washed up on the island with the CBS Survivors!

Good news, tribe! No rats for dinner tonight! We've got people meat! And plenty of it!

Strange, that meat smells like fish!

Hey, Survivors, after you chow down, immediately go to page 42 — your MAD spoof begins there!

What's the greatest menace on our nation's highways today? No, it's not those moronic "My Child Is An Honor Student" bumper stickers — it's road rage! But while we may see road rage as an out-of-control social problem, Detroit carmakers see it as a golden sales opportunity! If drivers are going to express a violent fury and unchecked hostility on the road, why not target a car expressly for this growing niche market? Something like...

THE

2000 OWNER'S MANUAL

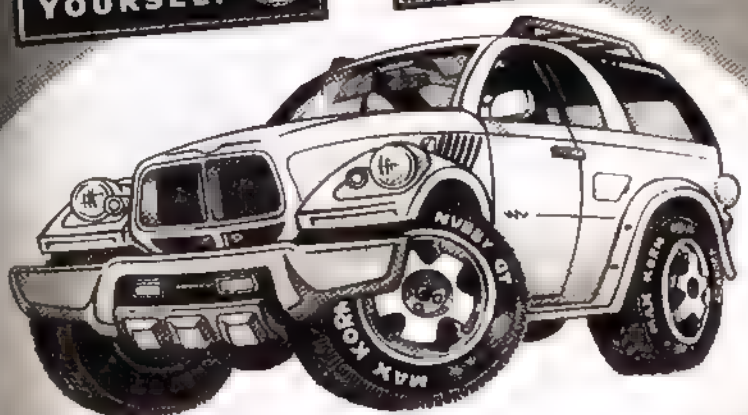
WELCOME!

Welcome to the growing family of Intimidator LX Owners! The Intimidator LX is the first domestic vehicle specifically designed for edgy, short-fused drivers like you. Please read through this manual carefully before operating your vehicle or inadvertent courtesy to other motorists may result.

Please note that this owner's manual covers all levels of road rage. Therefore, you may find some information that does not apply to your current degree of anger. But give it time. You'll get there.

BELT YOURSELF

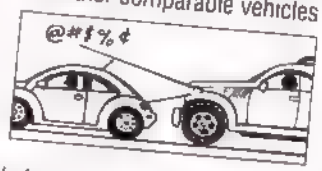
BELT SOMEONE ELSE



INSTRUMENTS AND CONTROLS

HEADLIGHTS AND HIGH BEAMS

Turn the switch on the lever on the left side of the steering column to activate and deactivate the headlights. Push the lever forward to select the high beam ("brights") function. This is useful for blinding approaching drivers and especially handy when tailgating slower cars. High beams on the Intimidator LX are 50% brighter than other comparable vehicles and are angled to point directly into the rearview and side mirrors of the driver ahead.

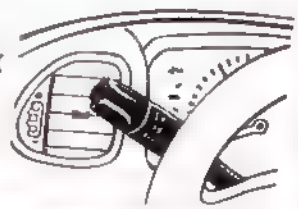


NOTE: Switching rapidly from low beam to high beam (or "flashing") is a particularly effective way of communicating your extreme displeasure with the slow speed of the car ahead of you

INDICATOR LIGHTS

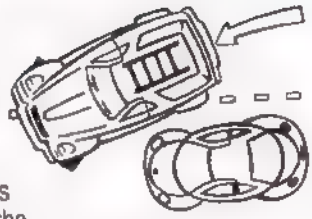
Turn signals

Federal regulations require we equip the Intimidator LX with lights to signal the direction of a turn to other motorists. You will find this procedure unnecessary.



ARTISTS: BILL WRAY AND TIMOTHY SHAMEY
WRITER: DARREN JOHNSON

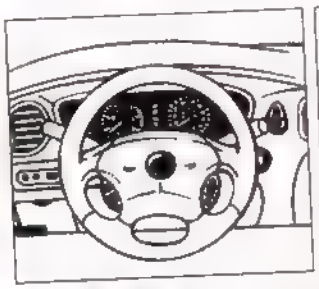
Lane change signal

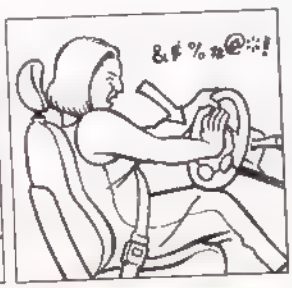


To indicate a lane change, move the lever on the left side of the steering column up (right lane change) or down (left lane change). As with turn signals, this step is pointless. Simply veer into the lane you wish to enter, forcing the other driver(s) to decelerate and/or swerve off the road.

HORN

The horn is activated by firmly pressing the buttons on either side of the steering wheel. It is important to keep the horn maintained and in perfect working order, for it will be used frequently. The Intimidator LX boasts horns specially designed to be 100 decibels louder than those found on tractor trailers.





Suggested horn beeps

Shown are the suggested number of horn beeps to be used in different traffic situations. The actual number will vary according to road conditions, weather and driver's mental state. Please be aware that this list is merely a suggestion, and far from comprehensive.

NOTE: When in doubt, it is best to lean on the side of caution by steadily leaning on the horn for 15-30 seconds. Repeat as desired.

Situation	# of horn beeps
Car ahead is driving too slow	2-3
Traffic signal has turned green and cars ahead have not yet started to accelerate	5-6
Pesky bicyclist delivering newspapers	7-10

SEAT BELTS

Wearing the lap/shoulder seat belts is fundamental to the safety of you and your passengers. Seat belts keep you from being thrown about the vehicle when careening wildly through traffic at breakneck speed. Seat belts also prevent driver from accidentally falling from vehicle when leaning out of window to make obscene gestures and/or fire weapons at other drivers.

EMERGENCY EQUIPMENT

The Intimidator LX comes factory equipped with many accessories that can be used in case of emergency situations the raging driver may encounter:

Lug wrench

Scalding hot liquid from in-dash beverage holder

Cigarette lighter

Dipstick

Jumper cables

Full-size spare tire

DOOR LOCKS

It is not safe to leave your Intimidator LX doors unlocked. With doors unlocked there is a greater chance of being pulled from your vehicle and beaten by the motorist you flipped off two blocks back.

TRAVELING WITH CHILDREN

Always secure a child properly in a child safety seat. Any child who is too large to use a safety seat should ride in the rear seat and wear a lap/shoulder belt. They may then observe you and join in making faces and obscene gestures at other motorists.

Never hold an infant or toddler on your lap when driving your Intimidator LX. Not only can this seriously injure or kill a child during a collision, it can also hinder your ability to perform high-speed maneuvers and/or brandish weapons.

TRAVELING WITH PETS

Pets should always be restrained while you are driving, except for pit bulls, rottweilers, or particularly nasty poodles, which can often assist you during a roadside brawl.

PREPARING TO DRIVE

You should do the following checks and adjustments every day before you drive your Intimidator LX.

- Make sure all windows and mirrors are clean and unobstructed. Adjust the rear-view and side mirrors. Check that you have maximum visibility for cutting-off or side swiping other vehicles.
- Ensure that driver's side window is open so that other drivers can hear you yelling and swearing.
- Check that all handguns and rifles are fully loaded.
- Adjust the seat and steering column. Ensure that you are able to lean out the window to shake fist or aim firearm comfortably.

ACCELERATION AND DECELERATION

To achieve superiority on the road, it is important to accelerate and decelerate properly. Refer to the illustrations for correct usage of the gas and brake pedals.

Gas pedal

During acceleration, gas pedal should be depressed fully to the floor. Essential for jackrabbit starts, weaving between other drivers, tailgating, etc.

Brake pedal

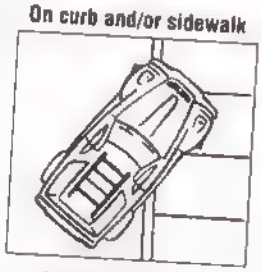
During deceleration, pedal should be stamped down firmly with both feet, causing brakes to fully lock. Essential for panic stops, cutting off other drivers, discouraging tailgaters, etc.

PARKING

Whenever possible, park your Intimidator LX in the spot nearest your destination. Do not hesitate to argue, fight or maim for this spot if required. Should you be unable to get the nearest spot or lose it to an even more aggressive driver, use an alternate location as illustrated.

Note. If the nearest parking spot is a wheelchair-marked handicapped one, remember your Intimidator LX comes equipped with a counterfeit handicapped parking permit in the glove compartment.

On curb and/or sidewalk



In flowerbed/landscaping

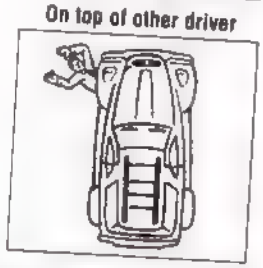
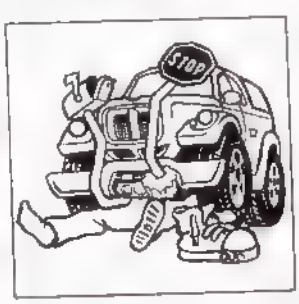
On top of other driver

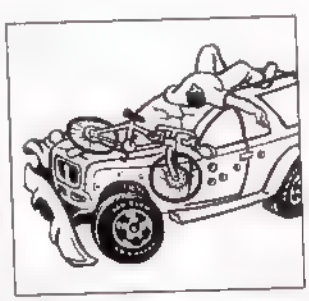


CLEANING HINTS

Maintaining a clean exterior helps to keep your Intimidator LX looking new. This section gives you hints on how to preserve your car's appearance.

- Wash your car periodically to remove dirt, grit, bloodstains and caked hair from grill and hood.
- Inspect the body for chips and scratches caused by ramming other drivers off the road. Repair them immediately with touch-up paint to prevent possible hit and run prosecution.
- Check the underbody for debris. Remove any road signs, mailboxes or pedestrians that may have been mowed down and lodged into these areas.
- You may discover extensive body damage such as dents from bicyclists landing on the hood and roof or bullet holes from other Intimidator LX drivers. These problems should be repaired by a professional.





The maintenance schedule specifies how often your Intimidator LX requires service. The schedule assumes an average degree of road rage and outlines the minimum required maintenance.

Due to differing emotional intensity and psychological stability of drivers, some additional service may be needed.

Service at the indicated time or number of road rage related incidents—whichever comes first	months	4	8	12	16	20

THE CASE

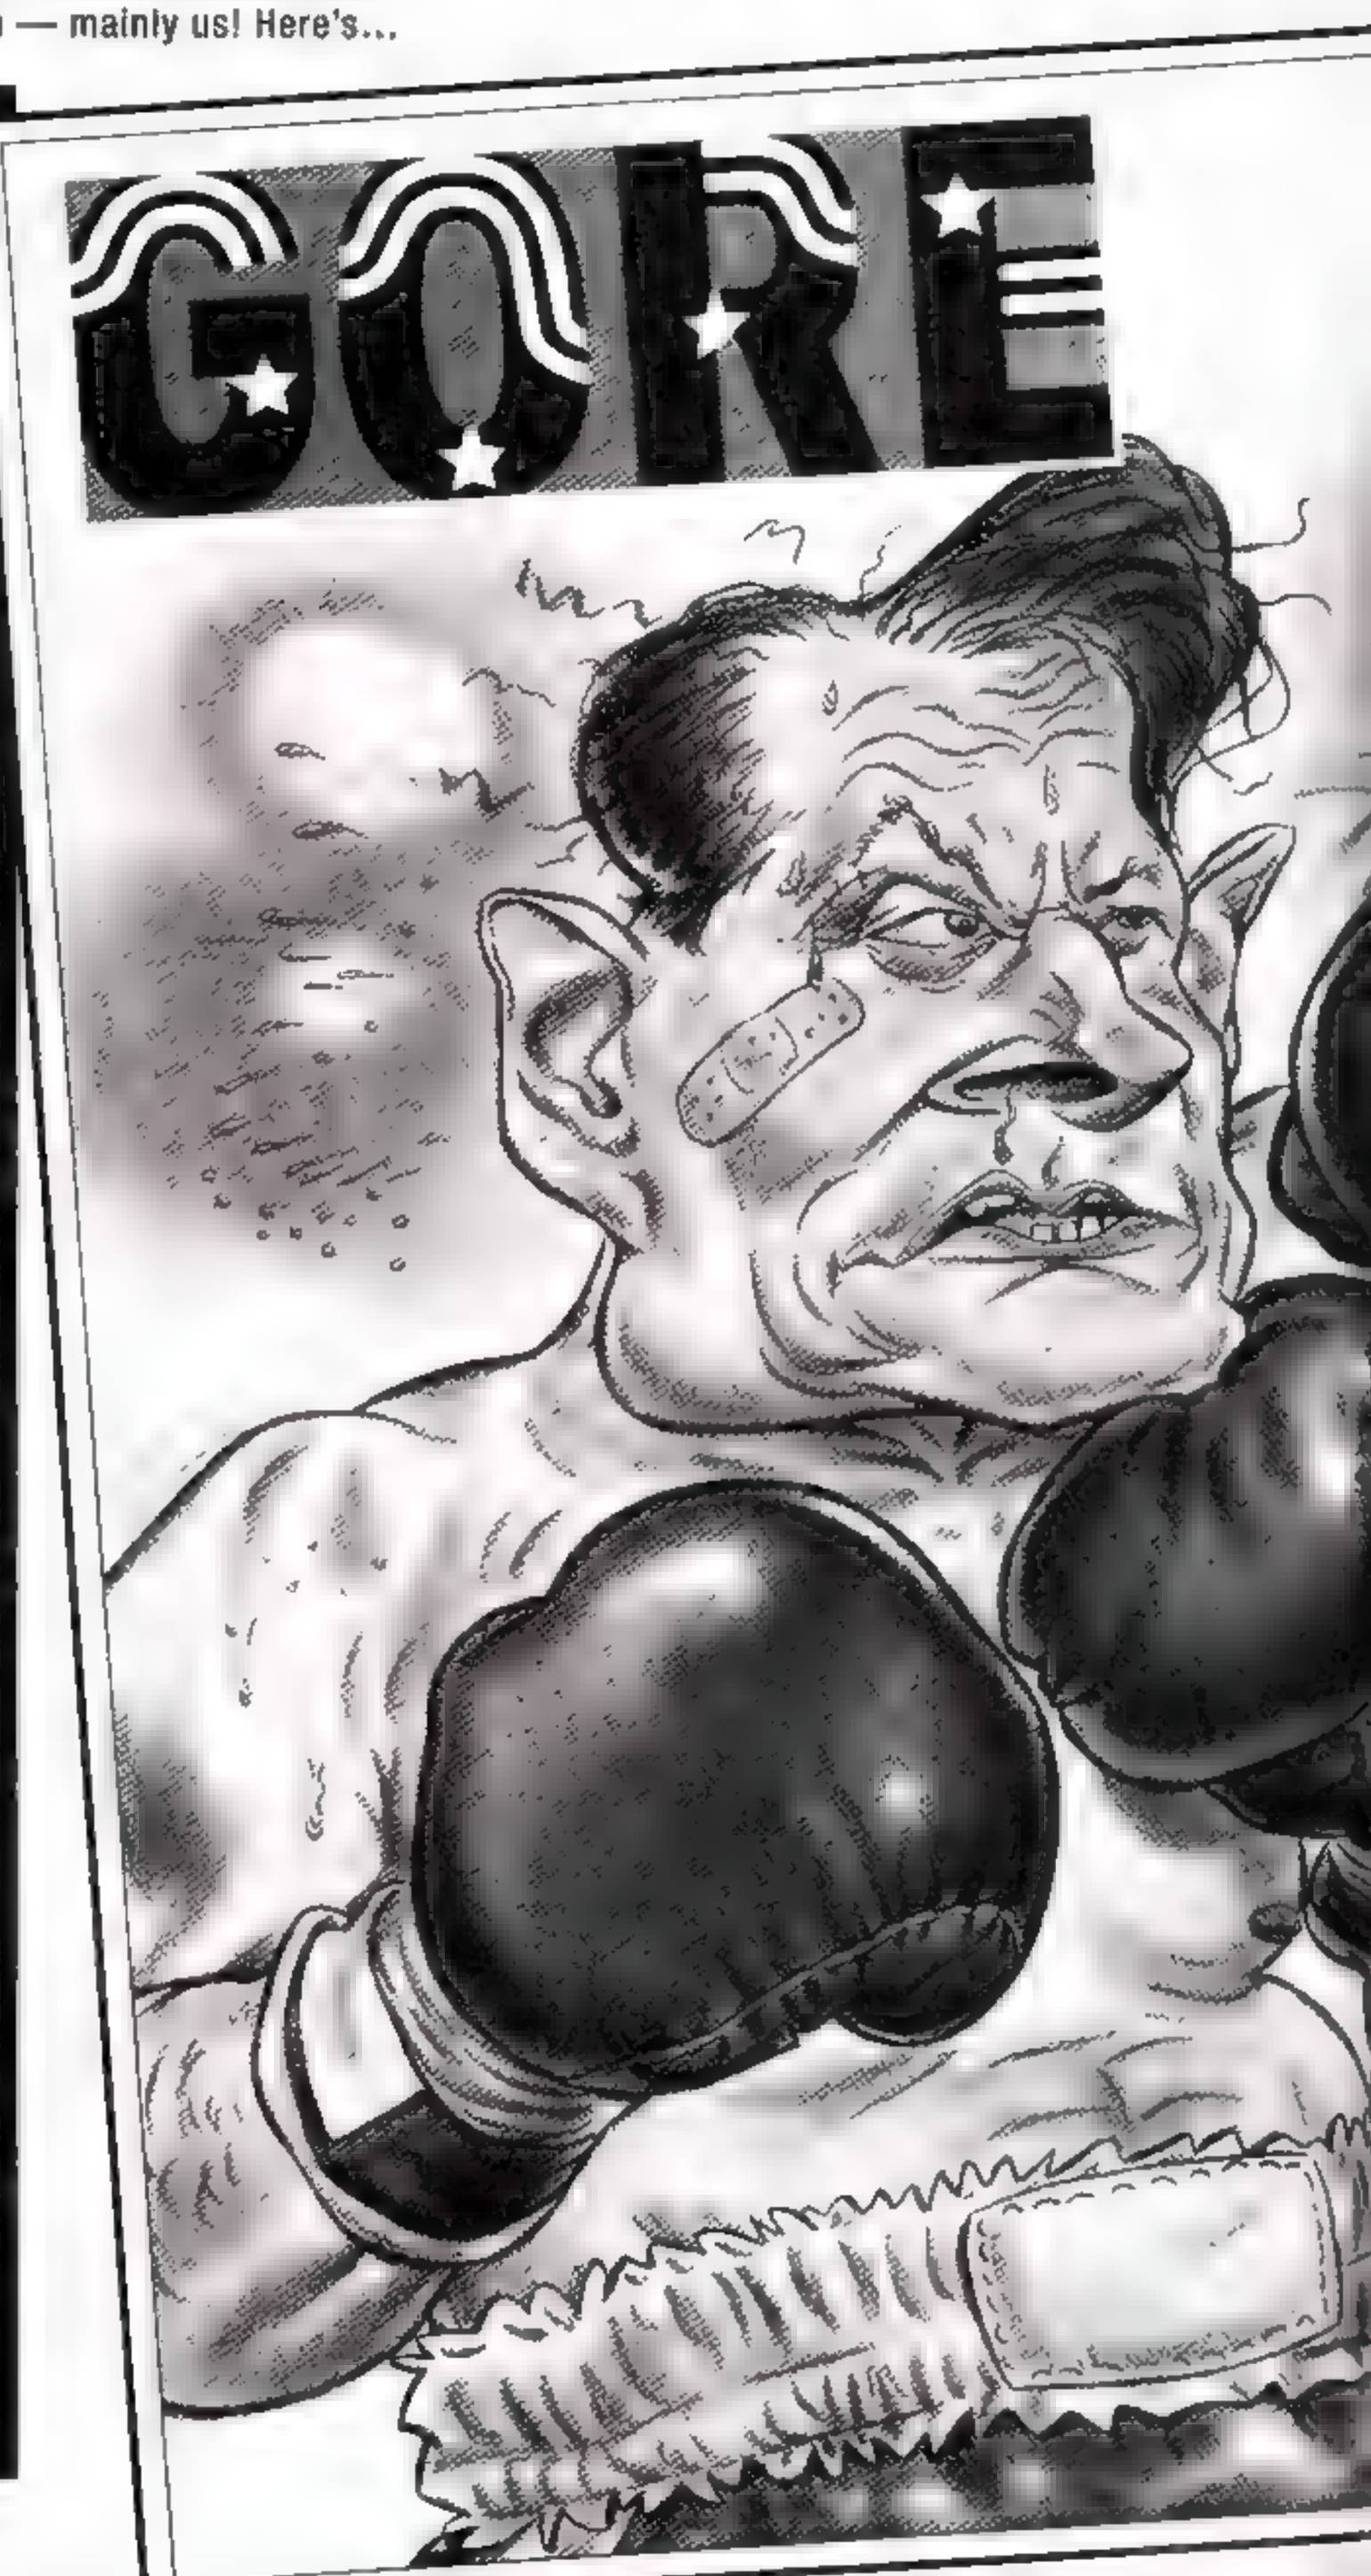
Election day is fast approaching and soon you must make the decision who to vote for as the next President of the United States. Historically, this is rarely an easy thing. Usually, the choice is between two lying, hypocritical, special interest pandering dirtbags. How to decide? You could research the candidates' records and try to make a rational decision, or you could do what most Americans do and let someone else do the thinking for you — mainly us! Here's...

FOR GORE

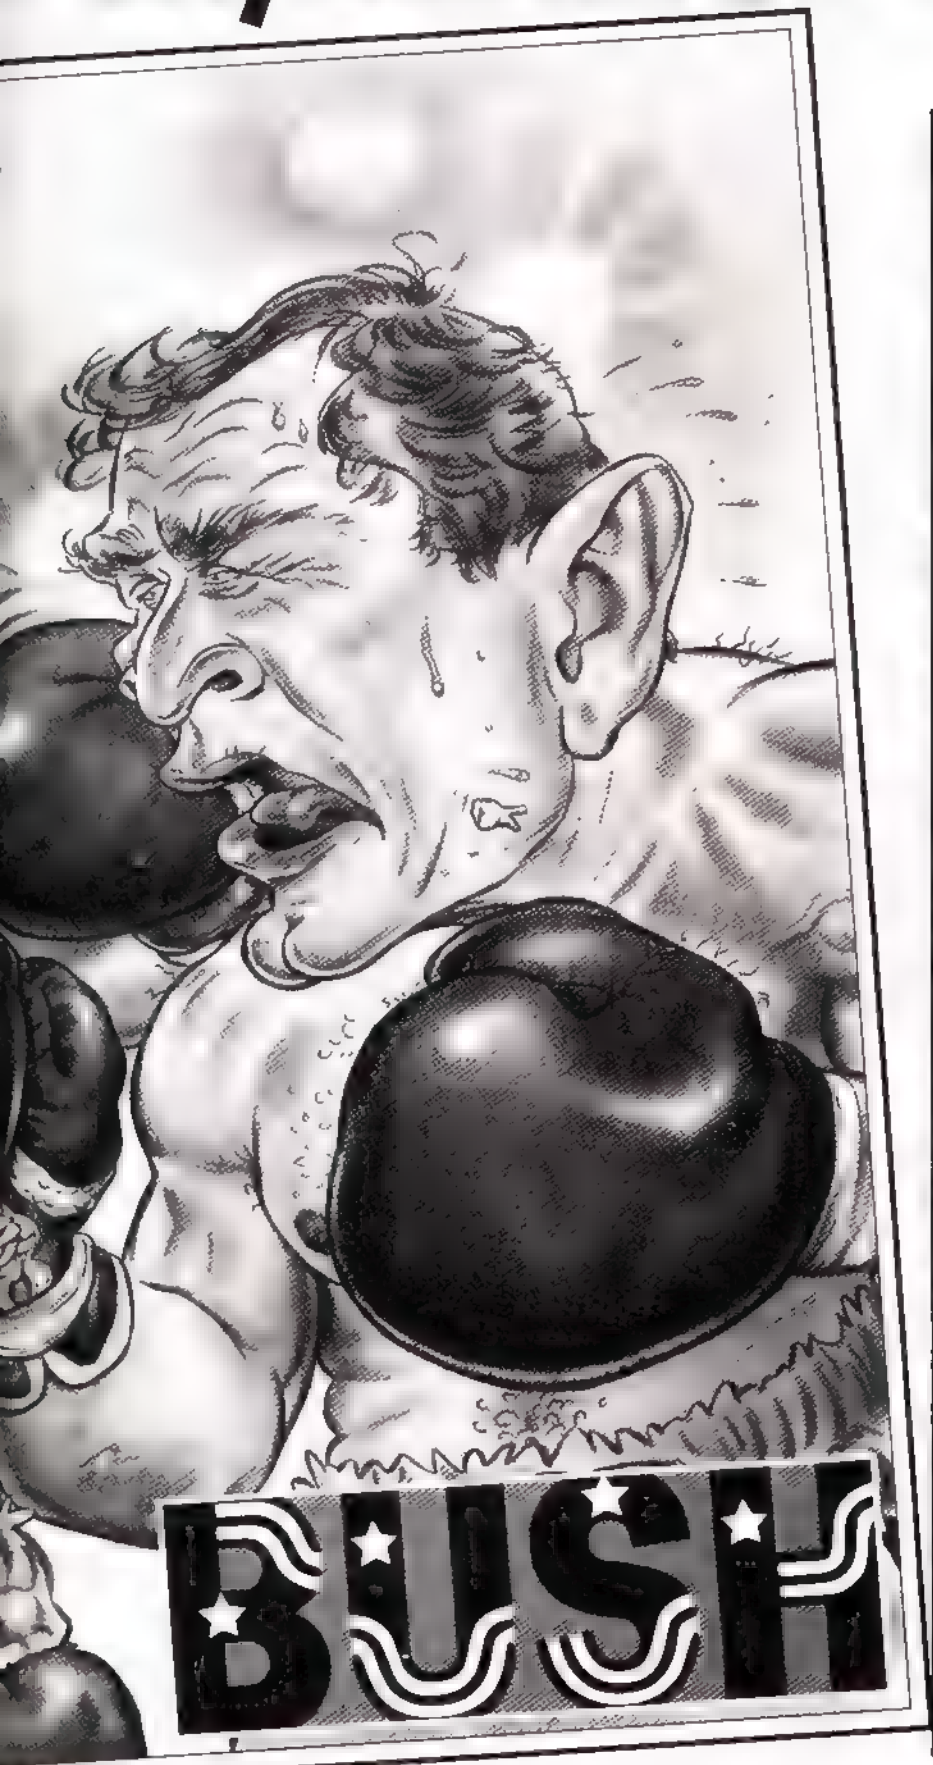
- He's not George W. Bush.
- He'll pick up many wise spiritual truisms while visiting Buddhist temples to pick up soft money donations.
- Any Ken Starr-type sleazoid dirt-sniffer who wishes to probe into his extra-marital sex life will immediately lapse into a coma.
- If for any reason he cannot fulfill his duties, he can be replaced by one of those robot Presidents from Disneyland...and nobody would be the wiser.
- He has good looking daughters and he's enough of a sell-out to do anything for re-election funds, so we can look forward to a "Hot Babes of the First Family" spread in Playboy.

AGAINST GORE

- If he's crazy enough to think he invented the Internet, he's crazy enough to think — and do — anything.
- Thanks to his wife Tipper and her conservative stand on Rock lyrics, the most cutting edge artist to be saluted at the Kennedy Center Honors will be Kenny G.
- After eight years of unswerving loyalty to the Clinton administration and faithful service to the Gore campaign, Barbra Streisand will be that much closer to an ambassadorship, and we'll be that much closer to some ugly international incident.
- After two terms in the White House, his only real experience consists of stalling Hillary from entering the Oval Office while Bill zips up his fly.
- His plan to put a computer in every American home will overload the Internet, making it take that much longer to download porn.



FOR/AGAINST



FOR BUSH

- He's not Al Gore.
- It'll be fun to watch Rush Limbaugh and other conservative commentators explain why this particular draft-dodging, former drug-using President is somehow more ethical than the last draft dodging, former drug-using President.
- Foreign dignitaries will be mooching considerably less dinners at the White House fearing that barfing on diplomats runs in the Bush family.
- Unlike Gore, Bush won't sell out to Chinese special interests — Bush only sells out to American special interests.
- He won't be giving away any national security secrets to foreigners, since he's not smart enough to understand them himself.

AGAINST BUSH

- If he's crazy enough to think he has a good environmental record, he's crazy enough to think — and do — anything.
- He just might ask his father for advice...and even worse, take it.
- His election will encourage other politically ambitious governors to fry as many criminals in the electric chair as he did, causing frequent massive power outages nationwide.
- The fate of the free world will be in the hands of a man who's often stumped by the $100 question on Who Wants To Be A Millionaire.
- It'll only encourage his brothers Marvin, Jeb and Neil to run for President later on, starting a Kennedy-style dynasty of politicians — only this time with nimrods.

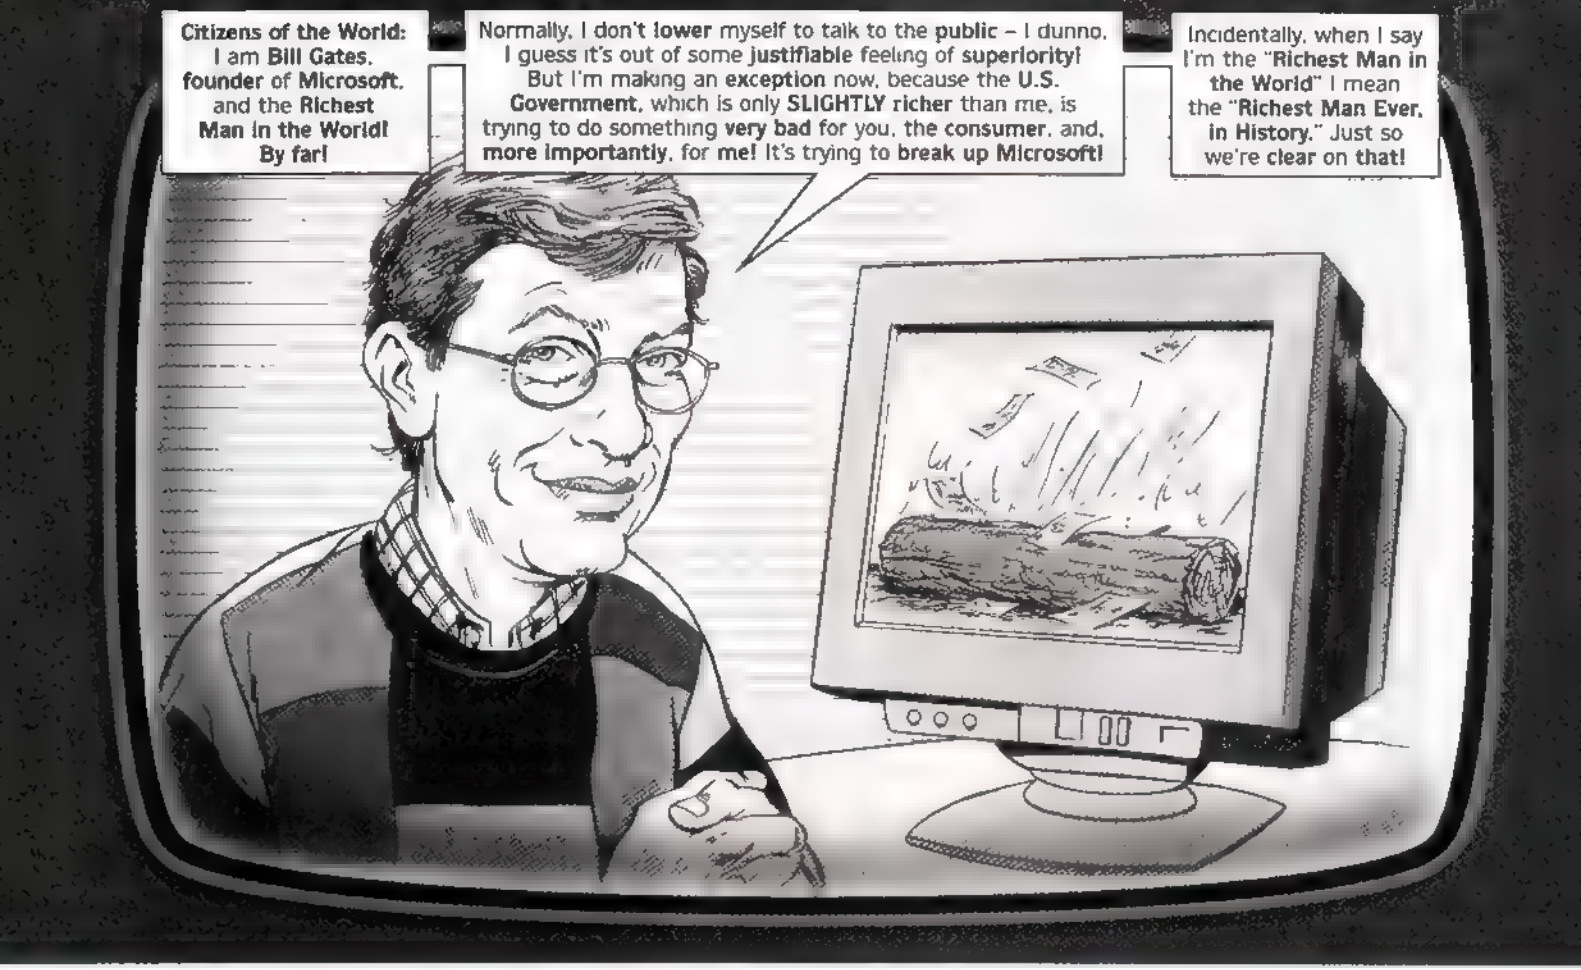
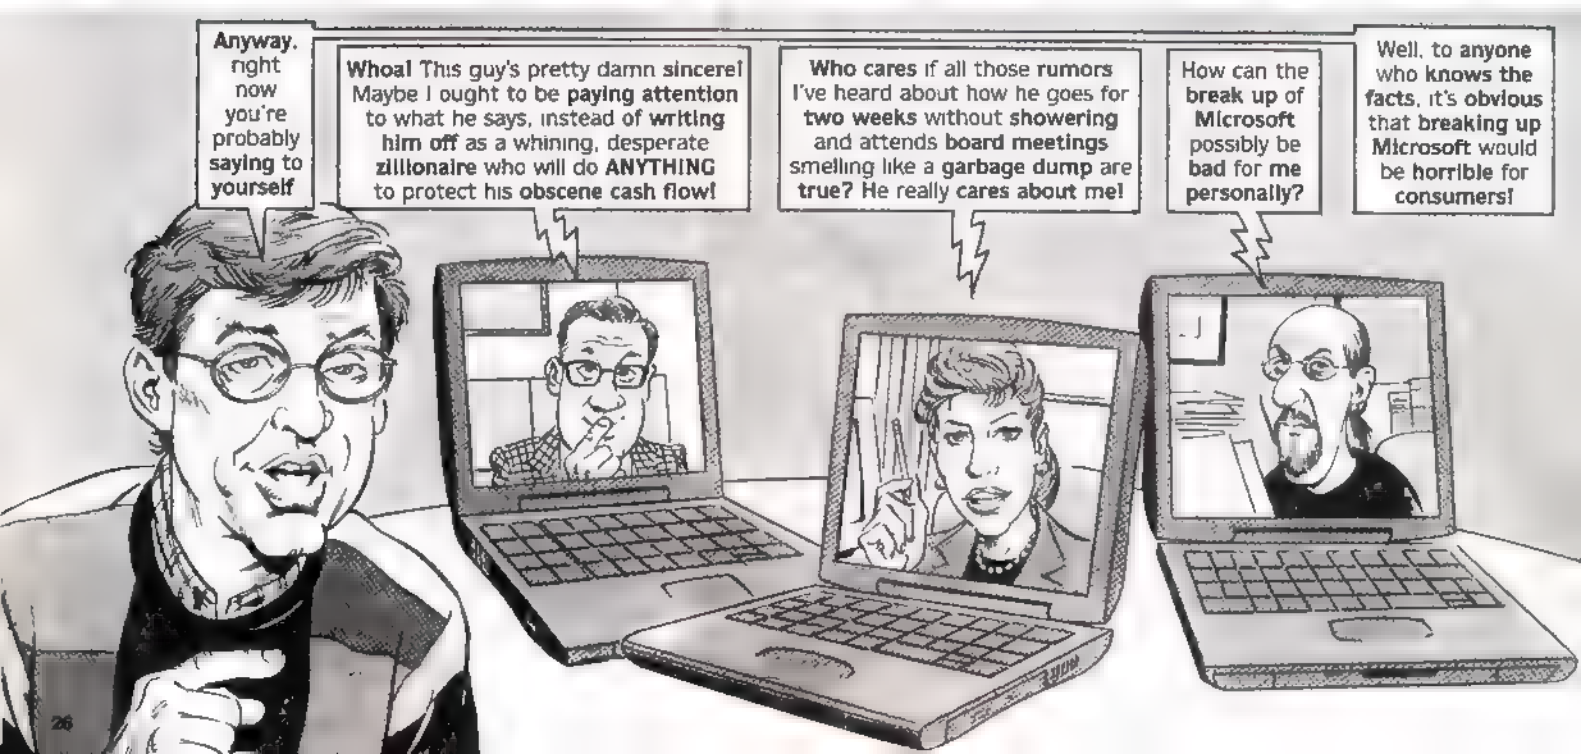
Ever since a federal judge ruled that the Microsoft monopoly must be broken up into itty-bitty pieces, Bill Gates has taken his case to the airwaves in a series of pathetic, whiny image ads in which he portrays himself as a cuddly, well-intentioned innovator (as opposed to the vicious, back-stabbing, cutthroat robber baron we know he really is)! But if the chairman of Microsoft REALLY wants to improve his image, he'd come clean in...

A TOTALLY HONEST MESSAGE FROM BILL GATES



Citizens of the World: I am Bill Gates, founder of Microsoft, and the Richest Man in the World! By far!
Normally, I don't lower myself to talk to the public – I dunno, I guess it's out of some justifiable feeling of superiority! But I'm making an exception now, because the U.S. Government, which is only SLIGHTLY richer than me, is trying to do something very bad for you, the consumer, and, more importantly, for me! It's trying to break up Microsoft!
Incidentally, when I say I'm the "Richest Man in the World" I mean the "Richest Man Ever, in History." Just so we're clear on that!

ARTIST: ANGELO TORRES WRITER: MIKE SNIDER



Anyway, right now you're probably saying to yourself
Whoa! This guy's pretty damn sincere! Maybe I ought to be paying attention to what he says, instead of writing him off as a whining, desperate zillionaire who will do ANYTHING to protect his obscene cash flow!
Who cares if all those rumors I've heard about how he goes for two weeks without showering and attends board meetings smelling like a garbage dump are true? He really cares about me!
How can the break up of Microsoft possibly be bad for me personally?
Well, to anyone who knows the facts, it's obvious that breaking up Microsoft would be horrible for consumers!

See, every application we've ever put out contains millions of lines of "source code," that indecipherable mumbo-jumbo that only the computer – and we here at Microsoft – understand!
Most of that source code is there just to get the PC to do what it's supposed to! But a tiny little bit of it is designed to do some extremely interesting things inside your computer, such as:
Translate every Microsoft Word document from English into Swahili, or Ancient Sanskrit, or those "Wingding" characters nobody knows what the hell are for!
MAX KORN
Sign up you and all the people in your Microsoft Outlook Address Book for a non-cancelable three-year subscription to the Microsoft Network!
CANNOT DELETE
Make your Microsoft Excel program at work siphon off one dollar from everybody else's account into a file called "My-Embzzle$" and then transmit a copy of that file to your boss!
Pretty scary, eh? Did those wild-eyed anarchists at the Justice Department even consider these possible consequences to the consumer when they came up with the radical notion of a break up?! I think not!
Of course, I'm not saying those things would automatically happen — first we'd have to send out the prearranged signal to your PC from our corporate headquarters — but why take the chance?
Please don't get me wrong – these aren't threats! "Threats" are wrong; threats are counterproductive; threats are liable to get the government even more pissed off at me than they already are! Let's just call them a "technical forecast" from an "informed industry source"!
But you have the power to make sure those things never occur! All you have to do is write, fax or e-mail — using Microsoft Outlook, of course — your congressman, senator, governor, mayor, dogcatcher — whatever! — and tell them what a silly, silly, silly idea breaking up Microsoft is!
Oh, and also remind them that we know how to remote-access everything on THEIR hard drives, too!
THE WORD IS...
In conclusion, let me say: May the "Blue Screen of Death" never visit your Windows-based PC, or at least no more than it does now – which it won't, if you do exactly as I say!
With all my best-simulated-non-threatening "warmth," this is Bill Gates, the Richest Man in the Known Universe!
MONEY!

That good ol' boy George W. Bush is going around the Presidential campaign trail calling himself a "Compassionate Conservative." This line is now being adopted by the rest of those stone-hearted right wing boobs. But what exactly is a Compassionate Conservative? The very term is an oxymoron! But at the risk of tipping the election, we now expose...

The Compassionate Conservative delivers the keynote address at an NRA dinner...

WRITER: DICK DEBARTOLO

They picked this island because of the rough terrain, the rats and the bugs! It's the same island people stay on when they fall for one of those $99-a-week vacation scams in the newspaper!
I'm taking buckets and crates, so I'll be able to collect water and have wood to make a shelter!
I'm taking these traps to help us catch fish!
I brought Dave Berg, because I can't imagine anyone else who I would rather be trapped on a desert island with!
I'm taking a shotgun! Even if there's no wildlife to bag on the island, I can use it on the rest of the creeps in this group, especially my rotten tribemates! They'll never vote me off!
Those other survivors are idiots! I'm taking this chest with the million bucks and flagging down the next ship heading back to America!
I want out now! This is inhumane! Flesh packed against flesh! The lack of food, the way people smell, the crappy way we're treated!
What are you talking about? You're not even on the island yet!
I'm not talking about the island! I'm talking about that horrible flight down here! Flying coach is worse than ever!

This is your tree mail box! Check every day for messages! There's no tree mail Sundays or holidays! Last FedEx pick-up is 3 p.m.!
Can't you just tell us what we're to do instead of these pretend fake mail scrolls with bad magic marker writing?
Nope! We may be out of civilization, but we are still in show business! Okay, I'll tell you your first challenge — build a shelter! Now, I'm going to my hotel! But don't be jealous, room service stops at 9 p.m.!

DAY ONE —THE PAINFUL TRIBE
Man, that's terrific! Good job, Boo-Boo!
Grabbing the Erecting Huts for Dummies book really paid off!
Don't get too crazy with the praise! I checked and there are only seven bedrooms for eight people!
Seven's good! We've voted you off the island, Boo Boo. Now that you've built the house, you're useless!
MEANWHILE AT THE TACKY TRIBE
You were supposed to be building a shelter! What the hell is that?
It's the first step! I built a time clock! Now way we can make sure every tribe member is pulling their own weight!
Damn! Why did we have to get a bean counter from the corporate world to be in our tribe!
Hey! "You've got tree mail"!
I hope we get decent tree mail today!
Me too! Yesterday all we got was junk mail addressed to "Occupant," and that stupid package from Publisher's Clearing House!
TREE MAIL
Hmmm... Our challenge seems to be in the form of a poem!
Let me read it, in an authoritative corporate tone! "Water you shall seek in a stream or a well! A flubbitzer points the way, listen for the epiditaxy bell!"
What the hell does that tell us?
It tells us that the producers are not going to do anything to make winning the $1 million any easier!
It also tells us their poetry writing sucks!
GILLIGAN SKIPPER MARY-ANN GINGER MR. HOWELL THE PROFESSOR TARZAN

According to my calculations, the waterhole should be located somewhere between this Coke machine and that lemonade stand!
Those !$*&ing producers made sure we didn't get any real hints or have any money to buy anything on this island!

The other tribe found water first today, so they won!
That's okay, yesterday we won!
Yeah, we won matches! Today someone used one to start a fire in our shelter!
Hopefully we'll find water soon! The first thing we'll do is try to put out the fire and save what little is left!
What's going on with you, Grog? For weeks you've been talking on your coconut phone, and now you're talking into a melon! Why?
I got a better rate, plus 1,000 free minutes! So I switched nature phone carriers to ATree&Tree!
If that doesn't prove a lot of cell phone exposure wrecks your brain, what does?
This is the sacred ground of the Tribal Counsel, where one of you will be voted off the island for failing to pull their own weight!
Good thing we can't be voted off for snickering at how stupid and hokey this whole tribunal counsel crap is! We'd all be off!
Did he say this was "sacred ground"? Isn't that a bit much?
It's scared ground to the network! This is the most ad income CBS has made in years!
They said write the name of the person we want to vote off, look into the camera, and say something nasty about them, because they can't hear!
Sure, when we're off this island and these shows air, God knows who's gonna come gunning for who! That's when THE REAL DANGER starts!
Hmm... that just might be a good idea for another spin-off game show!
SATAN
I've tallied the ballots, and you have spoken unanimously! Senilia has been voted off the island! Wasn't she pulling her own weight?
Worse than that! She wasn't pulling any weight! She's dead! She died of a snake bite two days ago!
Now there's something we didn't think about! Can a dead teammate be voted off? I'll be flexible and say it's okay!

TACKY TRIBE. DAY 8, AS IF YOU REALLY CARED
Today's challenge? Each one of us has to eat a big, ugly worm for dinner!
Not me, I'm a vegetarian!
Worms are more vegetable than meat!
How do you figure that?
You never see worms in the meat department! They're with fruits and vegetables!
Hmm, you can't argue with that kind of reasoning!
Look, everybody! I made something to help us eat our meals! A pair of chopsticks for each one of you!
These are great! What did you make them out of?
I found a box of wooden forks and I carved them up!
We did it, Jerk! It was gross, but every one of the Tacky tribe ate one of the earthworms!
If I wasn't so starved, I'd never have done it, but there's nothing else to eat!
Nothing else to eat? Didn't you read the whole scroll? See? "All entrees served with side dishes of potato salad, cole slaw and hot rolls"!
Damn! I never read the small print on anything!
The Tacky tribe won today! Each one of them ate an earthworm! You guys had to eat a rat! Two of you did not! Was the thought too repulsive?
Not at all! Ramoanin' works in a school cafeteria! She knew lots of ways to prepare rat!
And that was the problem! They were so delicious, we ran out of rat so there was none left for the two of us!
The challenge was for each of you to eat a rat, so you still lose and another tribe member must leave the island!
I've tallied the votes, and the tribe has spoken! Brad must leave the island! Hold on! None of you are named Brad! Who's Brad?
BRAD
BRAD
The cameraman! We voted him off! He follows us around all day driving us crazy, munching on candy bars and snacks!
We want him off the damn island or we'll kill him!
I don't think "mutiny" is in the rules, but under the circumstances Brad will go!

DAY 24 — YEAH, DAY 24...WE CUT A LOT OF STUFF OUT! DON'T YOU WISH CBS HAD DONE THE SAME THING?

Before I give you your next challenge, let me tell you what happened to the people you voted off the island! Senilia got a special prize of $500,000 cash as "first to be booted off the island"!

Boo-Boo sued us for cruel and unusual punishment, and we settled out of court for a million dollars cash, but we have much better lawyers now, so don't even think about trying that!

Spacey went on Who Wants To Be A Millionaire and won a million dollars!

Ramoanin' made a deal with VanHeusen, the company doing Regis' new clothing line, to endorse the new Survivor Clothing Line, so she'll make a few million dollars!

And Dirt got a contract with Playgirl to do a centerfold! He'll pull in at least half a million!

The only thing left is for one of us to sign on as a consultant for a cartoon version of this show! I'm swimming for the mainland right now before that opportunity is gone!

I already hear lots of screams from the woods!

Ignore them! They are victims of a REAL plane wreck!

LATER THAT DAY, OR MAYBE A DIFFERENT DAY! THEY ALL LOOK THE SAME ON THIS CRAPPY ISLAND

Tacky tribe, you lost the challenge! It's time to vote at the Tribal Council!

We've already voted! It's unanimous! We all voted for you!

Sorry, the rules say you can't vote me off the island!

We didn't vote you off! We voted to eat you! We haven't had a decent meal since the castaways from The Perfect Snore washed ashore! Tonight it's Roast of Probst!

One Fine Day in the Meadow...

I love to sit up here and find shapes in the clouds...
See that one? It looks like a flying dragon to me — do you see it?
Mmmmm-hmmmm.
And over there — the big one looks like a mother duck and the other ones are her little babies.
Oh, yeah. I see...
And that one looks like a single-engine plane with smoke coming out of its wings —
